Prizes Awarded and Announced

The University honored its own on Wednesday, 20 March, when it awarded prizes for excellence in research to Duncan Fishwick (Classics) and Neil Madsen (Biochemistry). Both talked to the large gathering of colleagues and family in SUB Theatre about their primary research interests, Dr. Fishwick on the development and significance of emperor worship in a largely pre-literate Roman world and Dr. Madsen on his 30-year affair with glycogen phosphorylase, that wonderful enzyme that frees energy to keep our brains functioning while we sleep.

On another and closely related front, this year's recipients of the Rutherford Award for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching, to be awarded on 7 May at University House, are Eugene Lechelt (Psychology), R.A. Pendergast (Economics), S.R. Munro (East Asian Languages and Literatures), and Rosemary Nielsen (Classics). More on this event will appear later in Folio.

Since excellence in research and teaching are clearly this year a hallmark of the Department of Classics (as they are of other departments), it is pleasant to note that excellence as a student can also be rewarded. Elaine

Steve Fonyo to Stride Onto Campus

"This $1's for Steve" is a theme that will be in the local air between 1 and 13 April. "Steve" is Steve Fonyo, the one-legged marathoner who is carrying out a cross-Canada run to raise money for cancer research. Mr. Fonyo, who at this writing had reached Regina, will be at our University on 13 April. In the two weeks preceding his arrival, organizers of "This $1's for Steve" hope to raise some $27,000, the idea being that each person on campus donates $1 (or more if they are so inclined).

Donations can be left at points in HUB, SUB, CAB and the Education Centre, and the Students' Union will be circulating collection boxes.

On 13 April (10:30 a.m.) in the Universiade Pavilion, Mr. Fonyo will be the central figure in a rally at which President Myer Horowitz will present the University's contribution to the Fonyo campaign. Mr. Fonyo will then lead a run to the Convention Centre. □

McGill Dominant at Canadian Finals of Jessup Moot Court Competition

From 21 to 23 February, the Faculty of Law hosted the Canadian Finals of the Philip C. Jessup International Law Moot Court Competition. The 1985 Competition involved teams from 18 of Canada's 22 law schools. More than 50 judges from across Canada representing the judiciary, the practising bar, legal academics and the Department of External Affairs judged the 36 moot exercises. Moots were conducted and judged in both official languages reflecting the bilingual nature of Canadian legal education.

After two days of intensive competition, teams representing the University of British Columbia and McGill University met in the championship round before a distinguished panel composed of: Mr. Justice Jules Deschênes of the Quebec Superior Court; Mr. Justice William Sinclair of the Alberta Court of Queen's Bench; Professor William Graham, University of Toronto; Professor Stanislas Slozar, Université de Sherbrooke; and Brian Dickson, Department of External Affairs.

The winner of the championship round was the team representing McGill University. It was composed of Gad Cohen, Alain Côté, Daniel Gogek and Julie Latour. The University of British Columbia took second place with the University of Toronto placing third. In addition to winning the team championship, McGill placed first in the memorial segment of the Competition, with the University of Ottawa, Civil Law Section, and the University of Calgary taking second and third place, respectively.

In the individual awards category, Gad Cohen from McGill University was selected as the top oralist in the Competition, followed by Stathis Potamitis and Graham Henderson, both of the University of Toronto, in second and third place, respectively.

The organizers of the Competition wish to thank all those who served as judges and who contributed monetarily and otherwise to the success of this year's Competition. Good luck to Queen's University which will host next year's Competition. □

'Employee Benefit Plan' Now in Place

An "Employee Benefit Plan" has been established for full-time academic and non-academic staff of the University. This is a deferred savings plan which offers you a unique tax advantage. You may elect to defer as much of your salary as you wish, without limit. Your deposits to the plan are deducted from your gross income before your taxable income is determined for T-4 purposes. Your contributions are not taxable until they are withdrawn.

There are restrictions on when your money can be withdrawn. You may join the plan on the first day of a new plan year (the next plan year runs from 1 July 1985 to 30 June 1986). You must complete an application form prior to the beginning of a plan year in order to join. Your deposits can be allocated to any one of the following three investment fund accounts:

1. Mortgage Fund
2. Equity Fund
3. 5-Year Guaranteed Fund.

For further details or application forms, contact the Pension and Benefits Office at 302 Assiniboia Hall, 432-4756. □

University/Community Special Projects Fund

The next deadline for the submission of applications to this Fund is 15 April 1985.

Late applications will not be considered by the Committee until after the next deadline of 15 October 1985 (note change of Fall deadline from 15 September to 15 October).

Enquiries should be directed to the current Chairman, F. McMahon, Faculté Saint-Jean (telephone: 468-1254), or to the Committee Secretary, Eva M. Cherniavsky, 3-31 University Hall (telephone: 432-4588). Requests for application forms and completed project proposals should be forwarded directly to the Committee Secretary.

Fund for Support of International Development Activities

The next deadline for the submission of applications to this Fund is 15 April 1985.

Late applications will not normally be considered by the Committee until after the next deadline of 15 September 1985.

Project proposals and requests for application forms should be submitted to the Committee Secretary, Eva M. Cherniavsky, 3-31 University Hall, 432-4588.

Cooperative Ventures Reason for Upjohn Visit

Discussions surrounding industry-supported research and technology transfer will be the on-going theme of meetings to be held 1 and 2 April between Upjohn Pharm. Co. (Canada) and representatives from the Universities of Alberta and Calgary.

Under the organizing eye of Ronald Micetich, Pharmacy and Pharmaceutical Sciences, the meetings will not only focus on how universities can work together with Upjohn but what research thrusts the company currently has and hopes to have in the future. Doug Squires, General Manager, and Ellen Miller, New Business Development, will spend their first morning with administrative representatives from the two Universities discussing such topics as research strengths of the various science, medical and agricultural departments, the kinds of University/Industrial interactions now taking place and the problems associated with such projects and how they can be solved.

The afternoon session will involve representatives from various agencies in Alberta which have an interest in supporting and fostering University/Industrial cooperative projects. Included among these is the provincial Department of Economic Development, Alberta Heritage Foundation for Medical Research, Alberta Research Council, Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, Chembiomed Ltd. and Edmonton and Calgary Industrial Parks. This meeting will feature a presentation from each agency on its aims and objectives and how they apply to University/Industrial interactions. They will also have an informal discussion of factors that an industry such as Upjohn would consider, when and if they decide to expand.

The second and final day of the Upjohn visit will consist of meetings with individual scientists or groups of researchers to inform the company of their research interests and projects. Any faculty member wishing to meet with the Upjohn representatives is asked to call Dr. Micetich, 432-2953. □

Universiade Star Returns

Evelyn Roth, internationally known Canadian sculptress-conceptualist-environmental designer-performance artist will give a public lecture on aspects of her work this very Friday, 29 March, in L-1 Humanities Centre, from 3.30 to 5.30 p.m.

A flamboyant personality, well known to Edmontonians as the designer of the fantastical inflatables used in the opening ceremonies of Universiade '83, Mrs. Roth, who will act as resource artist for Expo '86, believes wholeheartedly in a "participatory approach" to art.

The main purpose of her visit is to conduct a special teaching workshop for students in the Department of Art and Design to consider the rather large task of how to brighten and hu-manize the Chemistry Concourse. Three levels of Industrial Design students will be involved in finding an affordable and exciting solution to the problem. The project has the enthusiastic support of the Department of Chemistry, University Collections and the Department of Art and Design, and some financial support from EFF Discretionary Funds.

Folio will report on progress in later issues.

In the meantime, Mrs. Roth's public lecture, sponsored by the Department of Art and Design, will demonstrate her unique, fresh approach to art as part of life.

For further information, call Ring House Gallery, 432-5834. □

SSHRC Representatives to Hold Talks Here

On 11 and 12 April, two representatives from SSHRC (Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council) will visit campus for general discussion and consultation with University professors and groups.

An open forum is scheduled from 3:30 to 5 p.m. in the Council Chamber, University Hall, on Thursday, 11 April. All persons who are interested or involved in SSHRC programs are encouraged to attend. Why not place the time and date on your calendar now.

Individual consultations with a SSHRC representative can be arranged through the Office of Research Services for the morning of Friday, 12 April. Contact Marjie Cameron, 432-5360, for details. □

Dear Folio Reader:

A periodical has, in effect, a contract with its readers, one that readers have the right to quit at any time. A readership survey is an effective way of keeping that contract in good working order. Therefore, we need your help so that Folio can serve you better.

The questionnaire in this issue is designed to help us learn more about your (Folio) reading habits and your likes and dislikes. In the interest of helping the Office of Community Relations produce a quality news bulletin, one that continually reflects a sizeable cross section of University news, we ask that you take a few minutes to fill out the questionnaire and return it to us.

Folio has carried out readership surveys before and the thoughtful responses to same were appreciated because they contributed to the further development of the paper.

We want Folio to be responsive to your needs and interests. Your cooperation will assist us in progressing toward that goal. Thank you.

Non-Credit Courses Computing Services

Supercomputer II

Computing Services is holding an advanced course on using the Cyber 205 Supercomputer.

Topics

- (1) Efficient use of the network facilities
- (2) NOS procedures and "sigfiles"
- (3) Tape procedures
- (4) Error diagnosis on the 205
- (5) FORTRAN code optimization for the 205

Schedule

10 April, Lecture, 9 a.m. to noon; Lab, 2 to 4 p.m. 11 and 12 April, same schedule.

Prerequisites for this course are the first course, now called Supercomputer I, or equivalent experience. Ability to submit FORTRAN batch jobs to the Cyber 205 from MTS using the DATAPAC network and a general understanding of how many FORTRAN loops can be vectorized by the 205's compiler is required.

The lectures will be held in 315 General Services Building (GSB) and the labs will be held in 217 GSB and 357 GSB.

The lab sessions, while strongly recommended, are optional. You will be using your own MTS, NOS Cyber 75, and VSOS C Cyber 205 ids. Those who do not have NOS and VSOS ids should contact Denise Thornton via the messagesystem or at 432-2462.

Another Supercomputer I course will be scheduled if there is enough interest.

To register for Supercomputer II or to have your name put on a waiting list for Supercomputer I, call Carey Castillo at 432-2511.

Bookstore Closure

The University of Alberta Bookstore will be closed for its annual inventory 28 to 30 March. The store will reopen on Monday, 1 April.

Student Course Evaluation Forms Available Through CITL

As the term is coming to an end, it is time to consider assessing what occurred during the preceding weeks. The University of Alberta is making a standard form available for instructors to be used as one instrument in his/her evaluation activity. The form, entitled the "Student Course Evaluation Form," is designed to provide diagnostic feedback on teaching and has been used for several years by many departments. It is suggested that the "Student Course Evaluation Form" be administered well before the last week of classes.

The required number of forms may be requested through Bente Roed Cochran, Coordinator of the Committee for the Improvement of Teaching and Learning, 2-30 Assiniboia Hall, telephone 432-2826.
